

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION POLICY

The company "MAT HELLAS VENTILATION DUCTING S.A." specializes in manufacturing and exporting various kinds of flexible ventilation ducts.

The management has chosen as a means for the continuous development of the company, a clearly defined Policy for the Protection of the Environment. This Policy expresses the Company's commitment to providing consumers with safe products that meet their requirements and applicable legislation, as befits the company's position and a good name in the market.

To achieve the above goal, the company "MAT HELLAS VENTILATION DUCTING S.A." has designed, developed and implemented, in all stages of its production and operational processes, an ISO 14001:2015 Environmental Management System.

The company's environmental policy covers the entire range of its production activities and processes, laying the foundations for its economic development in combination with the promotion of the philosophy of respect for the environment, and its improvement.

The company is committed to:

- ❖ Compliance with the requirements of the environmental quality standard
- ❖ The information, dissemination and training of the staff so that the environmental way of thinking is an equal decision criterion for its members
- ❖ Better management of natural resources, raw materials and energy required for its activities
- ❖ Informing and raising awareness of all customers, suppliers, subcontractors and external partners on environmental matters and providing information to external bodies to improve its environmental performance and reduce environmental impacts
- ❖ The implementation of an Environmental Management System with the aim of achieving environmental performance.

JANUARY 2023

MATTHAIPOULOS THANOS